

Name: _____ Age: _____

THE WORD 'OF'

Read Lois' poem "The Word 'Of'" and follow along with the rhymes. Then, fill in the blanks with your own words that rhyme with each other and add in your own adjectives (descriptive words). Feeling extra creative? Add your own drawing or find an illustration online that follows the poem. Share your poem with your family and friends. And, if you can, record an audio version!

Lois would love to read your poem, too. Send her a copy at lois@loisletchford.com!

LOIS' POEM

Can I have a piece of pizza, please?
Can I have a piece of cake, please?
Can I have a piece of candy, please?
Can I have a piece of string, please?
Yes, Joe. You can have a piece of pizza.
Yes, Joe. You can have a piece of cake.
Yes, Joe. You can have a piece of candy.
Yes, Joe. You can have a piece of string.
Yes, Joe. You know that word "of."

YOUR POEM

Can I have a piece of pizza, please?
Can I have a piece of cake, please?
Can I have a piece of _____, please?
Can I have a piece of _____, please?
Yes, _____. You can have a piece of pizza.
Yes, _____. You can have a piece of cake.
Yes, _____. You can have a piece of _____.
Yes, _____. You can have a piece of _____.
Yes, _____. You know that word "of."

Draw Your Picture Here:

